

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Canadian Institute of Integrative Nursing Development & Education Ltd achieves ANCC Accreditation for Nursing Continuing Professional Development

ANCC accreditation demonstrates a commitment to delivering high-quality continuing nursing professional development.

Canada — February 15, 2022 — The Canadian Institute of Integrative Nursing Development & Education Ltd was granted accreditation for nursing continuing professional development (NCPD) in November 2021 from the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC). This accreditation demonstrates our commitment to using evidence-based criteria when developing high-quality educational activities that promote the professional growth of nurses.

With this accreditation, The Canadian Institute of Integrative Nursing Development & Education Ltd joins an influential global community of accredited organizations. We received accreditation for our innovative organization as we are dedicated to improving whole health and well-being for both nurses and their clients.

Our vision is to facilitate and advocate for the advancement of holism and healing in both nurses and nursing practice. We believe that nurses—especially those with advanced skills in holistic nursing and nurse coaching—can be key influencers in preventing disease, promoting optimal health and well-being, and in guiding others in bringing and sustaining positive change in their lives.

It is our mission to promote and advocate for a holistic care approach that integrates eastern and western philosophies beginning first with the health and well-being of the nurse.

Our goal is to revive the heART of nursing by providing nurses with education, community, support, and the essential tools needed to make a positive difference in their lives and the lives of those they serve. We believe that all individuals deserve care that respects and honors individual needs and choices; acknowledges the role of environment, culture, social connection, the intricate connection between mind-body-spirit, and the healing process; and is grounded in evidence-informed/based research and practice.

At The Canadian Institute of Integrative Nursing Development & Education Ltd we are committed to creating a global community of nurses who support, encourage, and inspire one another to enhance the overall well-being of both the nurse and client. As we collectively revive the heART of nursing, we envision a world where nurses honour nurses, support one another, and are advocates for adopting a lifestyle where self-care is a part of everything that they do.

NCPD accreditation from ANCC elevates educational offerings that benefit our nurses, and the patients and communities we serve, by:

- Promoting the highest professional standards to sustain effective strategies that improve professional nursing practice
- Improving curricula for nurses to provide evidence-based education that strengthen professional development programs
- Increasing credibility to adhere to evidence-based, global standards that deliver quality, professional education
- Expanding visibility to be included among other accredited organizations that are listed in a nationwide, searchable directory
- Increasing demand to offer continuing professional development contact hours that are essential to building professional portfolios, and maintaining certification and accreditation from ANCC and other licensing boards and regulatory bodies

The ANCC Accreditation Model is based on the original Donabedian framework of structure, process, and outcome measures to evaluate quality. The ANCC standards provide organizations with a structured, evidence-based framework to design and implement NCPD activities. The development of quality outcomes ensures that accredited organizations continuously evaluate processes and their impact on the professional development of nurses.
